

Session 1:

Discovering Myself

This session helps learners understand their own strengths, interests, and values. It encourages self-reflection to identify personal skills and areas for growth. The goal is to build self-awareness as the first step toward career planning.